

GLOBAL GRAIN FOOD & FEED 2018 (G2F2)

Exhibition has been designed to showcase emerging technologies available worldwide as also to promote business interest relating to market trends that enable the industry to remain competitive and is the ideal platform for technology transfer, business meets and joint ventures for identifying potential investors to boost industrial production, collaboration and international trade.

Up-to-date information on the latest emerging trends in the Grains, Food & Feed Milling Technology.

A cross – cultural forum for exchange of ideas and business contacts.

A virtual directory of who's who in the international market.

Exposures to latest sophisticated process equipment currently used in the Industry.

A comprehensive view of the traders and related industries.

Niche marketing guides and advice on products and services, including cost effective methods on production.

Techno-commercial collaborations/ventures and other possibilities.

Trade prognostications for the 21st Century.

